The Concorde International Group, Ltd. class action lawsuit was filed on behalf of those who purchased or otherwise acquired Concorde International Group, Ltd. ("Concorde") (NASDAQ: CIGL) securities between April 21, 2025 and July 14, 2025, inclusive (the "Class Period"). Captioned Parthasarathy Krishnamoorthy v. Concorde International Group, Ltd., No. 26-cv-02283 (S.D.N.Y.), the Concorde class action lawsuit alleges that Concorde and/or certain of its officers and/or directors violated federal securities laws by making false or misleading statements and/or omitted to disclose material information.

If you lost money as a result of your Concorde investment and want to find out more about this action and your rights, fill out the form on this page or contact attorney Jonathan Najji, Esq. of KTMC by calling (484) 270-1453 or via e-mail at info@ktmc.com. Lead plaintiff motions must be filed with the court no later than May 20, 2026.

COMPLAINT ALLEGATION SUMMARY:

Concorde provides integrated security services that utilize physical manpower and technology through its three offerings: (1) i-Guarding Services; (2) Man-Guarding Services; and (3) Consultancy and Training Services. Purportedly 97-99% of Concorde's revenue comes from the i-Guarding Services, which are described as electronic security systems and mobile patrols that are intended to replace a traditional human security guard.

The complaint alleges that, in the Offering Documents and throughout the Class Period, Defendants made materially false and/or misleading statements, as well as failed to disclose material facts about the company's business, operations, and prospects. Specifically, Defendants misrepresented and/or failed to disclose that: (1) Concorde was the subject of a fraudulent stock promotion scheme involving social media misinformation and impersonated financial professionals; (2) insiders and/or affiliates of Concorde used offshore accounts to execute a coordinated share-dump during a price inflation campaign; and (3) as a result of the foregoing, Defendants' statements about the company's business, operations, and prospects were materially false and misleading and/or lacked a reasonable basis at all relevant times.

WHY DID CONCORDE'S STOCK DROP?

For several weeks leading up to July 2025, Concorde's share price rapidly increased from the IPO price of $4.00 per share to $31.06 per share, despite there being no substantive news of information from the company to explain the surge.

However, the truth came crashing down on July 10, 2025, when TradeInformer published an article titled "Exclusive: Pump and dump scammers target Concorde International Group at market open Thursday." The article detailed how Concorde was utilizing social media to orchestrate a pump-and-dump scheme to artificially inflate its share price. On this news, Concorde's share price abruptly dropped around 80%, to just $5.66 per share.

THE LEAD PLAINTIFF PROCESS:

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 permits any investor who purchased or acquired Concorde securities during the Class Period to seek appointment as lead plaintiff in the Concorde class action lawsuit. A lead plaintiff is a representative party that acts on behalf of other class members in directing the litigation. In order to be appointed lead plaintiff, the Court must determine that the class member's claim is typical of the claims of other class members, and that the class member will adequately represent the class. Your ability to share in any recovery is not, however, affected by the decision whether or not to serve as a lead plaintiff. Filling out the online form above or communicating with any counsel is not necessary to participate or share in any recovery achieved in this case. Any member of the purported class may move the court to serve as a lead plaintiff through counsel of his/her choice, or may choose to do nothing and remain an inactive class member.
