COMPLAINT ALLEGATION SUMMARY:

The complaint alleges that, throughout the Class Period, Defendants made materially false and/or misleading statements, as well as failed to disclose material facts about the company's business, operations, and prospects. Specifically, Defendants misrepresented and/or failed to disclose that: (1) New Era overstated its progress in its permitting and regulatory filings for its Texas Critical Data Centers project; (2) the company participated in a scheme "to pocket revenues from hundreds of oil and gas wells in New Mexico" by transferring wells and liabilities between other entities; and (3) as a result of the foregoing, Defendants' statements about the company's business, operations, and prospects were materially false and misleading and/or lacked a reasonable basis at all relevant times.

WHY DID NEW ERA'S STOCK DROP?

On December 29, 2025, a research firm reported that the Attorney General of New Mexico filed a lawsuit against New Era and some of its subsidiaries, alleging that the companies had orchestrated a "fraudulent oil-and-gas scheme." On this news, New Era's stock price fell 41%.

THE LEAD PLAINTIFF PROCESS:

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 permits any investor who purchased or acquired New Era securities during the Class Period to seek appointment as lead plaintiff in the New Era class action lawsuit. A lead plaintiff is a representative party that acts on behalf of other class members in directing the litigation. In order to be appointed lead plaintiff, the Court must determine that the class member's claim is typical of the claims of other class members, and that the class member will adequately represent the class. Your ability to share in any recovery is not, however, affected by the decision whether or not to serve as a lead plaintiff. Filling out the online form above or communicating with any counsel is not necessary to participate or share in any recovery achieved in this case. Any member of the purported class may move the court to serve as a lead plaintiff through counsel of his/her choice, or may choose to do nothing and remain an inactive class member.
