COMPLAINT ALLEGATION SUMMARY:

Zoetis is an animal health company that develops, manufactures, and sells vaccines, medications, diagnostics, and more for companion and livestock animals.

The complaint alleges that, throughout the Class Period, Defendants made materially false and/or misleading statements, as well as failed to disclose material facts about the company's business, operations, and prospects. Specifically, Defendants misrepresented and/or failed to disclose that: (1) prescription growth and use of Librela, a pain treatment for dogs, was weakening following FDA safety warnings of serious neurological complications; (2) Simparica Trio, a preventative for fleas, ticks, and heartworm, was losing significant market share to a lower priced competitor; (3) the company's dermatological products, specifically Apoquel and Cytoint, were also losing market share to competition; and (4) as a result of the foregoing, Defendants' statements about the company's business, operations, and prospects were materially false and misleading and/or lacked a reasonable basis at all relevant times.

WHY DID ZOETIS'S STOCK DROP?

On May 7, 2026, Zoetis reported its 2026 first quarter results which showed significant decline across its Companion Animal business. On this news, Zoetis's stock price fell 21.5%.

THE LEAD PLAINTIFF PROCESS:

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 permits any investor who purchased or acquired Zoetis securities during the Class Period to seek appointment as lead plaintiff in the Zoetis class action lawsuit. A lead plaintiff is a representative party that acts on behalf of other class members in directing the litigation. In order to be appointed lead plaintiff, the Court must determine that the class member's claim is typical of the claims of other class members, and that the class member will adequately represent the class. Your ability to share in any recovery is not, however, affected by the decision whether or not to serve as a lead plaintiff. Filling out the online form above or communicating with any counsel is not necessary to participate or share in any recovery achieved in this case. Any member of the purported class may move the court to serve as a lead plaintiff through counsel of his/her choice, or may choose to do nothing and remain an inactive class member.
