The Navan, Inc. class action lawsuit was filed on behalf of those who purchased or otherwise acquired Navan, Inc. ("Navan") (NASDAQ: NAVN) securities pursuant and/or traceable to the registration statement and related prospectus (filed with the SEC on September 19, 2025 and October 30, 2025) (collectively, the "Offering Documents") issued in connection with the initial public offering conducted on or about October 31, 2025 (the "IPO"). Captioned McCown v. Navan, Inc., No. 26-cv-01550 (N.D. Cal.), the Navan class action lawsuit alleges that Navan and/or certain of its officers and/or directors violated federal securities laws by making false or misleading statements and/or omitted to disclose material information.

If you lost money as a result of your Navan investment and want to find out more about this action and your rights, fill out the form on this page or contact attorney Jonathan Naji, Esq. of KTMC by calling (484) 270-1453 or via e-mail at info@ktmc.com. Lead plaintiff motions must be filed with the court no later than April 24, 2026.

COMPLAINT ALLEGATION SUMMARY:

The complaint alleges that, in the Offering Documents, Defendants made materially false and/or misleading statements, as well as failed to disclose material facts about the company's business, operations, and prospects. Specifically, Defendants misrepresented and/or failed to disclose that: (1) Defendants had increased its "sales and marketing" expenses by 39%; (2) Navan's discussion of risk factors, as required by SEC regulations, did not adequately warn investors about the negative results and trends that were already occurring and that Navan was observing in its revenue growth; and (3) as a result of the foregoing, Defendants' statements about the company's business, operations, and prospects were materially false and misleading and/or lacked a reasonable basis at all relevant times.

WHY DID NAVAN'S STOCK DROP?

On December 15, 2025, Navan announced its third quarter of 2025 earnings, during which it revealed its 39% increase in sales and marketing expenses from the prior quarter. On this news, Navan's stock dropped almost 12%.

THE LEAD PLAINTIFF PROCESS:

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 permits any investor who purchased or acquired Navan securities during the Class Period to seek appointment as lead plaintiff in the Navan class action lawsuit. A lead plaintiff is a representative party that acts on behalf of other class members in directing the litigation. In order to be appointed lead plaintiff, the Court must determine that the class member's claim is typical of the claims of other class members, and that the class member will adequately represent the class. Your ability to share in any recovery is not, however, affected by the decision whether or not to serve as a lead plaintiff. Filling out the online form above or communicating with any counsel is not necessary to participate or share in any recovery achieved in this case. Any member of the purported class may move the court to serve as a lead plaintiff through counsel of his/her choice, or may choose to do nothing and remain an inactive class member.
