COMPLAINT ALLEGATION SUMMARY:
The complaint alleges that, throughout the Class Period, Defendants made materially false and/or misleading statements, and/or failed to disclose material adverse facts about the company's business, operations, and prospects. Specifically, Defendants misrepresented and/or failed to disclose that: (1) GPGI had materially overstated the value of Husky Technologies Limited ("Husky"); (2) Husky was not on track to achieve the revenue and Adjusted EBITDA targets provided in the company's proxy statement and such targets lacked a reasonable basis in objective fact; (3) a primary motivation of the Husky acquisition was to generate millions of dollars in fees for Resolute Holdings ("Resolute") and Defendants, rather than to create long-term value for CompoSecure, Inc. ("CompoSecure") shareholders; and (4) as a result, Defendants' statements about the company's business, operations, and prospects were materially false and misleading and/or lacked a reasonable basis at all relevant times.

WHY DID GPGI'S STOCK DROP?
On August 7, 2024, GPGI, then known as CompoSecure, announced that investment firm Resolute intended to acquire a majority interest in GPGI, which was completed on September 17, 2024. On January 12, 2026, CompoSecure announced the completion of its acquisition of Husky and rebranded itself as GPGI.

On February 26, 2026, Jehosaphat Research published a report alleging, among other things, that GPGI had overstated the value of Husky in order to gain shareholder approval for the acquisition, stating that "[all] major aspects of the financials appear to be affected" including that free cash flow was overstated by 90%.

Then, on March 12, 2026, GPGI released its fourth quarter and fiscal year 2025 financial results, disclosing that Husky saw its EBITDA decline 5.4% year-over-year in the quarter and 3% year-over-year for the full year. On this news, the price of GPGI Class A common stock declined $3.23 per share, or approximately 16.4%, over multiple trading sessions, from a close of $19.74 per share on March 11, 2026, to close at $16.51 per share on March 13, 2026.

On May 7, 2026, GPGI released its first quarter 2026 financial results, disclosing that Husky's net sales had declined 5.2% year-over-year, and its EBITDA fell 40.2% year-over year due to "oil and resin price volatility and continued tariff uncertainty[,]" "and customers delay[ing] accepting shipments and placing orders." GPGI also slashed its 2026 guidance. On this news, the price of GPGI Class A common stock declined $4.52 per share, or approximately 25.9%, from a close of $17.46 per share on May 6, 2026, to close at $12.94 per share on May 7, 2026.

THE LEAD PLAINTIFF PROCESS:
The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 permits any investor who purchased or acquired GPGI Class A common stock during the Class Period to seek appointment as lead plaintiff in the GPGI class action lawsuit. A lead plaintiff is a representative party that acts on behalf of other class members in directing the litigation. In order to be appointed lead plaintiff, the Court must determine that the class member's claim is typical of the claims of other class members, and that the class member will adequately represent the class. Your ability to share in any recovery is not, however, affected by the decision whether or not to serve as a lead plaintiff. Filling out the online form above or communicating with any counsel is not necessary to participate or share in any recovery achieved in this case. Any member of the purported class may move the court to serve as a lead plaintiff through counsel of his/her choice, or may choose to do nothing and remain an inactive class member.
