The Wise Group plc class action lawsuit was filed on behalf of those who purchased or otherwise acquired Wise Group plc ("Wise") (NASDAQ: WSE) securities between May 11, 2026 and July 23, 2026, inclusive (the "Class Period"). Captioned Daniel Daugherty v. Wise Group plc, No. 26-cv-06582 (S.D.N.Y.), the Wise class action lawsuit alleges that Wise and/or certain of its officers and/or directors violated federal securities laws by making false or misleading statements and/or omitted to disclose material information.

If you lost money as a result of your Wise investment and want to find out more about this action and your rights, fill out the form on this page or contact attorney Jonathan Naji, Esq. of KTMC by calling (484) 270-1453 or via e-mail at info@ktmc.com. Lead plaintiff motions must be filed with the court no later than September 29, 2026.

COMPLAINT ALLEGATION SUMMARY:

The complaint alleges that, throughout the Class Period, Defendants made materially false and/or misleading statements, as well as failed to disclose material facts about the company's business, operations, and prospects. Specifically, Defendants misrepresented and/or failed to disclose that: (1) the company's risk disclosure understated the regulatory risk facing Wise given that it was under active investigation by Belgian authorities; (2) Wise had present and material longstanding deficiency in anti-money laundering and anti-terror financing processes and controls; and (3) as a result of the foregoing, Defendants' statements about the company's business, operations, and prospects were materially false and misleading and/or lacked a reasonable basis at all relevant times.

WHY DID WISE'S STOCK DROP?

On July 24, 2026, the Wall Street Journal published an article titled "Wise Group Shares Drop After U.S. Regulator Denies License on Shortcomings." The article detailed, in part, that the company's London-listed shares fell following U.S. regulators having denied its application for a national trust bank license due to deficiencies in its programs combatting anti-money laundering and anti-terrorism financing. On this news, the price of Wise securities fell more than 6%.

THE LEAD PLAINTIFF PROCESS:

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 permits any investor who purchased or acquired Wise securities during the Class Period to seek appointment as lead plaintiff in the Wise class action lawsuit. A lead plaintiff is a representative party that acts on behalf of other class members in directing the litigation. In order to be appointed lead plaintiff, the Court must determine that the class member's claim is typical of the claims of other class members, and that the class member will adequately represent the class. Your ability to share in any recovery is not, however, affected by the decision whether or not to serve as a lead plaintiff. Filling out the online form above or communicating with any counsel is not necessary to participate or share in any recovery achieved in this case. Any member of the purported class may move the court to serve as a lead plaintiff through counsel of his/her choice, or may choose to do nothing and remain an inactive class member.
