COMPLAINT ALLEGATION SUMMARY:

Alphabet is a global technology company that offers various products and platforms through its Google Services, Google Cloud, and Other Bets segments. On May 19, 2026, Alphabet hosted its annual Google I/O developer conference, in which it was announced that its product Gemini 3.5 Pro would arrive in June 2026.

The complaint alleges that, throughout the Class Period, Defendants made materially false and/or misleading statements, as well as failed to disclose material facts about the company's business, operations, and prospects. Specifically, Defendants misrepresented and/or failed to disclose that: (1) the Gemini 3.5 Pro was delivering disappointing training results; (2) as a result, the launch of Gemini 3.5 Pro would be significantly delayed; and (3) as a result of the foregoing, Defendants' statements about the company's business, operations, and prospects were materially false and misleading and/or lacked a reasonable basis at all relevant times.

WHY DID ALPHABET'S STOCK DROP?

On July 16, 2026, Bloomberg reported that Google is "months behind schedule on delivering Gemini 3.5 Pro, its most powerful flagship AI model" due to ongoing coding efforts. On this news, the price of Alphabet's Class A and Class C common stock fell more than 4%.

THE LEAD PLAINTIFF PROCESS:

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 permits any investor who purchased or acquired Alphabet securities during the Class Period to seek appointment as lead plaintiff in the Alphabet class action lawsuit. A lead plaintiff is a representative party that acts on behalf of other class members in directing the litigation. In order to be appointed lead plaintiff, the Court must determine that the class member's claim is typical of the claims of other class members, and that the class member will adequately represent the class. Your ability to share in any recovery is not, however, affected by the decision whether or not to serve as a lead plaintiff. Filling out the online form above or communicating with any counsel is not necessary to participate or share in any recovery achieved in this case. Any member of the purported class may move the court to serve as a lead plaintiff through counsel of his/her choice, or may choose to do nothing and remain an inactive class member.
