The Honeywell Aerospace Inc. securities fraud class action lawsuit was filed on behalf of those who purchased or otherwise acquired Honeywell Aerospace Inc. ("Honeywell Aerospace") (NASDAQ: HONA) common stock between June 29, 2026 and September 1, 2026, inclusive (the "Class Period"). Captioned Green v. Honeywell Aerospace Inc., No. 26-cv-06779 (D. Ariz.), the Honeywell Aerospace class action lawsuit alleges that Honeywell Aerospace and/or certain of its officers and/or directors violated federal securities laws by making false or misleading statements and/or omitted to disclose material information.

If you lost money as a result of your Honeywell Aerospace investment and want to find out more about this action and your rights, fill out the form on this page or contact attorney Jonathan Naji, Esq. of KTMC by calling (484) 270-1453 or via e-mail at info@ktmc.com. Lead plaintiff motions must be filed with the court no later than November 23, 2026.

COMPLAINT ALLEGATION SUMMARY:

Honeywell Aerospace manufactures and supplies aircraft components, avionics, engines, and systems through its three reporting segments: (1) Electronic Solutions, which manufactures integrated cockpits, radars, flight management systems, and precision navigation solutions; (2) Engines and Power Systems, which manufactures and supplies propulsion engines and electric power generation products; and (3) Control Systems, which manufactures and supplies mission critical air, thermal, motion, lighting, friction, and engine control systems.

The complaint alleges that, throughout the Class Period, Defendants made materially false and/or misleading statements, as well as failed to disclose material facts about the company's business, operations, and prospects. Specifically, Defendants misrepresented and/or failed to disclose that: (1) a small percentage of the company's suppliers, that happened to be suffering supply constraints, had a disproportionate impact on sales; (2) Honeywell Aerospace was under investigation for potential violations of the False Claims

Act for failing to comply with cybersecurity requirements for government contracts; and (3) as a result of the foregoing, Defendants' statements about the company's business, operations, and prospects were materially false and misleading and/or lacked a reasonable basis at all relevant times.

WHY DID HONEYWELL AEROSPACE'S STOCK DROP?

On August 5, 2026, Honeywell Aerospace announced its second quarter 2026 earnings, which revealed that net income fell 70% year-over-year. Upon this news, the price of Honeywell Aerospace's common stock fell more than 23%.

Then, on September 1, 2026, the United States Justice Department announced that Honeywell Aerospace agreed to "pay over $2 million to settle False Claims Act allegations of failing to comply with cybersecurity requirements in a U.S. Department of Defense contract." On this news, the company's common stock price fell more than 2%.

THE LEAD PLAINTIFF PROCESS:

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 permits any investor who purchased or acquired Honeywell Aerospace common stock during the Class Period to seek appointment as lead plaintiff in the Honeywell Aerospace class action lawsuit. A lead plaintiff is a representative party that acts on behalf of other class members in directing the litigation. In order to be appointed lead plaintiff, the Court must determine that the class member's claim is typical of the claims of other class members, and that the class member will adequately represent the class. Your ability to share in any recovery is not, however, affected by the decision whether or not to serve as a lead plaintiff. Filling out the online form above or communicating with any counsel is not necessary to participate or share in any recovery achieved in this case. Any member of the purported class may move the court to serve as a lead plaintiff through counsel of his/her choice, or may choose to do nothing and remain an inactive class member.
