Captioned Rahim Noorali Kassam v. Qfin Holdings, Inc., No. 26-cv-06024 (E.D.N.Y.), the Qfin class action lawsuit alleges that Qfin and/or certain of its officers and/or directors violated federal securities laws by making false or misleading statements and/or omitted to disclose material information.

COMPLAINT ALLEGATION SUMMARY:

Qfin together with its subsidiaries, operates a purported artificial intelligence ("AI") driven credit technology platform under the "Qifu Jietiao" brand in China.

The complaint alleges that, throughout the Class Period, Defendants made materially false and/or misleading statements, as well as failed to disclose material facts about the company's business, operations, and prospects. Specifically, Defendants misrepresented and/or failed to disclose that: (1) the company overstated the resiliency and stability of Qfin's business and financial results despite regulatory changes in China that impacted consumer finance companies; (2) Qfin downplayed the true scope and severity of the negative impact that regulatory headwinds were likely to have, and were already having, on the company's business and financial results; and (3) as a result of the foregoing, Defendants' statements about the company's business, operations, and prospects were materially false and misleading and/or lacked a reasonable basis at all relevant times.

WHY DID QFIN'S STOCK DROP?

On August 25, 2026, Qfin issued a press release announcing its second quarter and interim 2026 unaudited financial results, which showed a total net revenue decline of 31.6% year-over-year. Net income also plummeted 76.8%, leading the company to issue forward financial guidance projecting a 67% to 73% year-over-year decrease in third quarter net income. On this news, Qfin's stock price fell nearly 19%.

THE LEAD PLAINTIFF PROCESS:

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 permits any investor who purchased or acquired Qfin securities during the Class Period to seek appointment as lead plaintiff in the Qfin class action lawsuit. A lead plaintiff is a representative party that acts on behalf of other class members in directing the litigation. In order to be appointed lead plaintiff, the Court must determine that the class member's claim is typical of the claims of other class members, and that the class member will adequately represent the class. Your ability to share in any recovery is not, however, affected by the decision whether or not to serve as a lead plaintiff. Filling out the online form above or communicating with any counsel is not necessary to participate or share in any recovery achieved in this case. Any member of the purported class may move the court to serve as a lead plaintiff through counsel of his/her choice, or may choose to do nothing and remain an inactive class member.
